

Northeast Beast

Join us on a wild, nine-day experience as we travel throughout the Northeastern United States. The first phase of the trip features stand up paddleboarding at Emerald Lake and a two-day backpacking trip in Central Vermont. The second phase involves rock climbing, rappelling for a day and exploring the top of Mt. Washington in Northern New Hampshire via cog railway. We end with phase three in the Berkshires of Western Massachusetts for two fun days of whitewater rafting! There will be a zipline added on to this trip, location TBD. This is one beast of adventures we offer and only runs once every two years! Feed the Beast good vibes and it will reward you with adventure.
